

Preventing Domestic and Sexual Violence

National Resource Centers and Clearinghouses on the Web

Michigan Resource Center on Domestic and Sexual Violence

www.resourcecenter.info

Provides comprehensive information, resources and technical assistance on issues related to domestic and sexual violence. A collection of over 3500 books and 350 videos are available to borrow free of charge. The Resource Center is a collaboration of the Michigan Domestic Violence Prevention and Treatment Board and the Michigan Coalition Against Domestic and Sexual Violence. The Resource Center is a valuable resource for educators, administrators, and parents dedicated to understanding and preventing violence against Michigan's young adults and children.

National Resource Center on Domestic Violence

www.vawnet.org

Provides comprehensive information and resources, policy development and technical assistance designed to enhance community response to and prevent domestic violence. The National Resource Center in conjunction with community organizations has published information on model prevention programs that are downloadable from the Web. The NRC also has information packets available to download on different topics, including "Children Exposed to Intimate Partner Violence". Applied Research paper topics include working with young men who batter and the overlap of violence against women and child abuse.

National Sexual Violence Resource Center

www.nsvrc.org

Provides comprehensive information, materials, and technical assistance on issues involving sexual assault. Serving as a central clearinghouse for voluminous resources and research, the NSVRC provides a place to turn to for information, help and support.

Stalking Resource Center

www.ncvc.org/src/home.htm

Provides information, materials, consultation, and technical assistance related to stalking. The information clearinghouse provides a wide range of useful information for practitioners. Materials include: statistics on the prevalence of stalking, practitioner-specific educational tools, multidisciplinary curricula, and promising practices and innovative strategies. A continually growing resource for practitioners and victims, the Stalking Resource Center Web site provides diverse resources, including fact sheets on federal statutes, an annotated stalking bibliography, summaries of state stalking laws, a guide to online resources, statistical overviews, practitioner profiles, and more.

National Youth Violence Prevention Resource Center

<http://www.safeyouth.org/home.htm>

The National Youth Violence Prevention Resource Center (NYVPRC) was established as a central source of information on prevention and intervention programs, publications, research, and statistics on violence committed by and against children and teens. The Resource Center is a collaboration between the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention and other federal agencies. Together, the NYVPRC Web site, www.safeyouth.org, and call center, 1-866-SAFEYOUTH (723-3968), serve as a user-friendly, single point of access to federal information on youth violence prevention and suicide.

Center for the Prevention of School Violence

<http://www.ncsu.edu/cpsv/cpsv.htm>

The Center for the Prevention of School Violence serves as a resource center and "think tank" for efforts that promote safer schools and foster positive youth development. The Center's efforts in support of safer schools are directed at understanding the problems of school violence and developing solutions. Positive youth development efforts are emphasized as the Center focuses beyond the school into the community and works in support of youth-serving programs and agencies which target the development of attitudes, behaviors, and conditions that enable youth to grow and become productive members of their communities.

The Michigan Resource Center on Domestic and Sexual Violence is owned by the Michigan Domestic Violence Prevention and Treatment Board (MDVPTB). The Michigan Coalition Against Domestic and Sexual Violence wishes to thank the MDVPTB for their financial support of this project.
